LOCAL MISCELLANY. WOES OF LONG ISLAND CITY.

WOES OF LONG ISLAND CITY.

The new Police Commissioners of Long Island City qualified yesterday, but they will not hold any meeting until Thursday, it is not believed that they will take any action to arrest the proprietors of the pool rooms and gambling houses. School Commissioner James W. Smith resigned yesterday, and his resignation was at once accepted by Mayor De Bevoise, who appointed as his successor Henry C. Johnson, postmaster of Astoria and a prominent local Republican politician. Mr. Johnson has occupied the position of School Commissioner several times before. He ran upon the Republican city ticket last isll for police justice, but was ladly defeated.

The petition requesting the Mayor to force the Police Commissioners to do their duty and to order the arrest of all persons concerned in peol-scling and gambling at Hunter's Point or to resign his office, has received some signaturea. Mayor De Bevoise stated yesterday that he had not had as yet a consultation with Commissioners Tier and Clarke in regard to the matter.

The demoralization of the police has made the ruffians in Long Island City very bold. On Sunday night a man maned Germinner was violently assaulted by a gang of ruffians while he was escorting a hady home from church in Ravens wood. Mr. Germander had the bridge of his nose broken. The police made no arrests, and the laboration of his store their headquarters, to go away. They refused and Mr. Wright attempted to make one of them go away. The entire gang then set upon him, following him into his store. Some where Mr. Germander was stracked, Widiam Wright, the owner of a grocery store in Ravens wood, ordered a number of ruffians, who have made the front of his store their headquarters, to go away. They refused and Mr. Wright attempted to make one of them go away. The entire gang then set upon him, following him into his store. Some meighbors rushed to his assistance and drove the ruffians away. Before this was a accomplished, however, one of the more struck dr. Wright a terrible blow on th down one side of the honse in order to save the rest of the building. There was not water enough in the mains to throw a stream sufficiently high to reach the roof of the structure.

In the suitof the people against Mayor De Bevorse to recover $10×,900 of public money which, it is alleged, was illegally used, a notion was made yesterday in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, before Judge Barnard, for a bill of particulars. The coungel for the Mayor opposed it, saying that the complaint charged the misappropriation of 148 bands of $500 each, while the answer set up that only twenty bonds were appropriated, and they legally. The decision was reserved. A motion for a struck jury was agreed to. was agreed to.

ARABS FROM ALEXANDRIA.

ARABS FROM ALEXANDRIA.

The centre of attraction at Castle Garden yesterday were the eight Arabs who arrived in the steamship Chaicau Lafite, of the New-York and Bordeaux Line, on Saturday. Mohanna Barakat is in charge of the party, which, beside himself, consists of Girgis Malain and his wife (Barakat's sister) and their five children, the oldest being seventeen years of age. Barakat speaks English well, and for a number of years was Professor in the American Mission College at Osioot, Egypt, at that time in charge of the Rev. David Strong, of Lincoln, Tenn., who has sent to Secretary Jackson to have the Arabs forwarded to him. A Tribune reporter asked Barakat what the party intended to do for a living when they reached their destination. He said: "My brother-in-faw has been both a merchant and an agriculturist, and he is willing and able to work brother-in-law has been both a merchant and an agriculturist, and he is willing and able to work now. When we get to Tennessee we shall obtain some fariating land, and see what we can do toward supporting ourselves. Perhaps I shall be able to get something to do in the way of teaching. There is no fear but that my sister's family can get along, for you see they are strong and healthy, and are willing to work."

"What was the cause of your leaving Alexandria!"

"What was the cause of your leaving Alexandria?"

"It was a matter of necessity. We had to do that or join Arabi's forces, as we belonged to the small percentage of Christians. When the massacre occurred we saw that war was inevitable, and so we fied with thousands of others. This was about ten days before the bombardment. Many of those who escaped left all of their property behind them. As we had considerable money we pushed on to Malta, but finding that we could not accomplish anything there we continued our journey to France. Here was another drawback. We could not speak the French language, and so I concluded we had better come to the United States."

"What do you think of the present condition of affairs in Egypt?"

"As I have not been able to read up all that has occurred since I but Marseilles I cannot speak as intelligently as I might otherwise. I have not much faint in the edict of the Sultan declaring Arabi a rebel. I don't think that he would have issued the proclamation against Arabi unless he had been lorced to."

THE INJURIES TO THE SYLVAN DELL.

The repairs to the steamboat Sylvan Dell, which was damnged in a collision with the Sirius on Sun-day afternoon, were not finished and she did not reday atternoon, were not finished and she did not resume her trips yesterday merning as was anterpated. It was found that her bows were so broken that she will not be ready to take her place on the Sea Beach route before to-morrow morning. The Sirius was running to the Iron Pier at Coney Island yesterday as usual, and had not sustained any damage. An officer of one of the foreign steamships, who was on board of the Sylvan Dell at the time of the collision said vesterday: "The pilots of both who was on board of the Sylvan Dell at the time of the collision, said yesterday: "The pilots of both boats were to blame. Everybody knows that the Dell is the fastest excursion boat on the river, and Captain Long, who was with the Iron Steamboat Company last year, wants to convince Captain Longsireet of this fact. On the other hand, the captains of the iron steamboats want to convince other captains that they are not atraid of collisions or anything else. The Dell was making for her pier at Bay Riage and wanted to round the bows of the Sirius, but captain Longstreet kept right on without slackening his speed. When Captain Long saw that the Sirius would not stop, he ought to have stopped the engines of the Dell, but instead of that he sheered around and struck the Sirius annalships. There are a great many complaints of the assained independence on the part of the captains of the iron steamboats. A few days ago Wilnam P. Glyde sent a letter warning the Iron Steamboat Company against taking so many risks with the City of Richmond, the captain of which has avoided geveral accidents by his extreme carefulness.

THE CAUSE OF HER DEATH IN DOUBT.

THE CAUSE OF HER DEATH IN DOUET.

An antopsy was made at the Morgue yesterday upon the body of Ellen Mulligan, the woman who med in Bellevue Hospital on Sunday, after stating that she had been beaten by her habband. It was ascertained that she had received severe bruses about the head and limbs, but there was evidence also that she had suffered from alcoholism. The immediate cause of death was left somewhat in doubt. Mrs Mulligan lived on the second floor of the tenement house at No. 451 West Thirty-ninth-st. The police sent her to the hospital on Wednesday last and arrested her husband, Francis, whom she accused at the time. After she reached the hospital, she became deirhous and violent. It was found necessary to confine her in a padded cell on Friday. The surgeons thought that she had been intoxicated, but they were not certain. She had a chief, three months old, with her when she was taken to the hospital.

Francis Mulligan is a poor laborer, who gets drunk occasionally, but who has not been accused of crime heretofore. He is a prisoner in the Jefferson Market Prison, where he was committed on Wednesday to await the result of his wife's injuries. THE CAUSE OF HER DEATH IN DOUBT. '

ITALIAN PUPILS ON A PICNIC. Tralian Pupils on a Picnic.

The pupils of the Italian school in Leonard-st, over 500 in number, were made happy on last Thursday by the munificence of J. Picrpont Morgan, who provided for them an excursion to Raritan Beach by the barge Coxsackie. The day was fine, the sea smooth and the little folks enjoyed the bracing air to their hearts' content. The steamer landed at the beach, where several hours were spent by the crowd in a manner which showed that they were bent upon making the most of the day. They were hungry too, but their benefactor had not left that contingency out of account, and there were plenty of good things at hand wherewith to satisfy them. When the steamer brought the children back to the city they went to their wretched hovels and tenecity they went to their wretched hovels and tene-ments with hearts full of gratitude toward the good man who had remembered them at a season when many are apt to forget the poor.

Suspicions are entertained that the death of Mrs. Margaret Bradford, who was drowned in the Howanus Canal on Saturday night, was not caused by her own act, but resulted from foul play. Coroner Keiler yesterday took the sworn statements of Rouben L. Chapman and Patrick Roche, canal-boat captains, who heard the splash in the water and called to a man on the bank to aid the person in the water; the man directed them to "shut up," and then ran away. The woman did not rise to the surface after she fell into the water, and made no outery. Shortly before the occurrence Mrs. Bradford left the house of a Mrs. Harran, near where she was trowned, with her husband, son and daughter. They say she left them on her way home, and as she did not return they reported to the police that she did not return they reported to the police that she SUICIDE OR FOUL PLAY.

was missing. The son says that his mother had threatened to commit suicide. There was an insurance for $150 on her life. The Coroner's inquest will be held to-day. Meanwhite the police are looking for the man who stood on the bank and saw her draws. drown.

ARE ELEVATED ROADS COMMO N CARRIERS,
The elevated railroads have not generally been considered common carriers for the reception, transportation and delivery of freight within the City of New-York, Messax White & Stokes, stationers, by Roger Foster, as their atterney, have begun an action in the Sixth Civil Dustriet Court to determine the question whether they are such common carriers. The complaint sets forth that the company as a common carrier is bound to receive and transport all freight offered to it, upon the payment of the legal charges, but that it has wrongfully refused to accept any freight unless offered to it by the Manhattan News Company or certain "other specially favored persons," thereby exercising an oppressive discrimination in favor of these persons azainst the plaintiffs. It is declared that the plaintiffs yesterday offered a loss of illuminated stationery at the station of the elevated road at Twenty-third-st, and Sixth-ave, between 11 and 12 o'clock in the morning, for delivery at Church st, and Park-place, but the agents of the company at that station would not receive it. They say that they have suffered damages amounting to $150, for which amount, they demand judgment.

The action is brought under a section of the gen-ARE ELEVATED ROADS COMMO N CARRIERS,

The action is brought under a section of the general law of 1875 in respect to "county ratiroads" under which the elevated railroads were organized. This section reads as follows:

This section reads as follows:

Every such corporation small start and run their cars for the transportation or passengers and property at regular times to be fixed by public notice; and shall furnish sufficient accummodation for the transportation of all such passengers and property as shall within a reasonable time previous thereto be offered for transportation at the place of starting and the function of other railronds and stands stooping piaces established for receiving and discharging passengers and freight for that train; and small take, transport and discharge such passengers and property at, from and to such places, on the due payment of the freight or fare legally authorized therefor, and shall be hable to the party aggrieved in an action for damages for any neglect or refusal in the promises.

NOT NEGLECTING THEIR DUTIES.

In relation to the alleged neglect of the Board of Health to attend a reported case of typhus fever at No. 61 Sullivan-st., Assistant Sanitary Superintendent Edward H. Janes stafed to a reporter of The Tribune last evening that there was no foundation whatever for such a charge. "There has been," he continued, "very little contactors disease in the city during the entire summer. Nevertheless, the Board has three physicians who were appointed at the last epidemic of typhus fever, and their duty is to investigate any case that may be reported. In this case there is no doubt but that everything necessary has been done to prevent the spread of the disease. There are now only five cases of contagious disease allogether in Riverside Hospital, and the city has seldom, if ever, been in so thoroughly healthy a condition as at present. The special corps of summer physicians are actively attending to the sick in the crowded tenements. They have been instructed to pay particular attention to the children. But no medicine can brace up their attenuated bodies as the drangitts of fresh air and good food that are provided for those fortunate enough to be selected for the excursions of The Tribune Fresh air Fund. This noble charity will certainly have a beneficial effect upon the future health of the poor waifs of this city, and will aid very materially in reducing the death rate and suffering of the dwellers in the crowded tenements."

RELEASED FROM AN ASYLUM.

Austin McNamara, of Laurel Hill, L. L., who has been an inmate of the Queens County Insane Asylum for the last four years, and who was taken before Judge Barnard, in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, last week, upon a wit of habeas cornus, was discharged from custody by the Judge yesterday. Mr. McNamara is about seventy-six years old. He claims to have been sane during all the time of his incarcer of his sons that secured the nivisicians' certifihis incarceration, and declares that it was the minuence of his sons that secured the physicians' certificates which pronounced him insane. Judge Barnard said yesterday that he would have discharged McNamara last week, had he not wanted the Asylum authorities to have a chance to say something about him. This opportunity they did not take.
One of the statements which McNamara made last week was that he was severely punushed in the Asylum for a year for having told Dr. Ordronaux, the former State Commissioner of Lunacy, that two men had been murdered in the Asylum.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF KOLTES POST.

Koltes Post, No. 32, Grand Army of the Republic, whose headquarters are in the Germania Assembly Rooms, held their annual pieme in Funk's Park on the Eastern Boulevard yesterday. The post is composed of Germans, and the picnic was well attended, among the visitors being General Henry A. Barnum, General Max Weber, General McQuade, Captain James Fraser, department commander of the State of New-York, Colonel George F. Hopper, Assistant Adjutant-General Charles Sensey, Assistant Quartermaster-General and Commander of Koltes Post, and General Kryzysanowski, the first commander of the post, now Consul at Aspinwall. There was the traditional camp-fire near several tents. There were sack-racing, climbing a greased pole for prizes, dancing in the paython and pienty of beer. The exercises were closed with a sham battle. ANNUAL PICNIC OF KOLTES POST.

ton-st. East New-10rk, E. L., from the Brooklyn city line to Cypress Hills Cemetery, was abandoned vesterday and horse-cars were run instead. The line is managed jointly by the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, being operated by the latter. The change vesterday was brought about by the action of the Highway Commissioners of the town, who ordered flagmen to be placed at each of the fourteen crossings in the town. This resulted from a recent fatal accident, the latest of a long series, in which a young doctor was killed. It is stated that the Brooklyn City Railroad Company will purchase the full interest in the line, which is a practical continuation of its line in Futton-st., Brooklyn.

ONE OF HIS ASSAILANTS ARRESTED. ONE OF HIS ASSAILANTS ARRESTED.
The ante-mortem statement of Nicolo Demati, of No. 56 Mulberry-st., who was stabbed in a quarret opposite No. 57 Mulberry-st. on Sunday, was taken yesterday by Coroner Brady. He is now in a critical condition in St. Vincent's Hospital, Demati, who is twenty-seven years of age, received three wounds in the back. He stated that he heard that his cousin, Gateano Demati, of No. 57 Mulberry-st., was in trouble, and he ran to see what the matter was. A fight was going on, in which Nicolo became involved, and he was stabbed by two men, who lived at No. 55 Mulberry-st., but whose last name he did not know. The police subsequently arrested Francisco Annonio, who had a bloody knife in his possession. He is believed to be the person meant by Dematt.

LONG HOURS AT THE BATTERY PARK.

LONG HOURS AT THE BATTERY PARK.

"The Park war is in statu quo, but I'm all broke up from loss of sleep and bithousness," said Sergeant Flock, of the Park police, who is on duty at the Battery Park, to a Turbune reporter yesterday. The Sergeant has been on duty since August 2, with only one relief, and looked like a man who wished the "cruel war was over." He was relieved last might at 6 by Sergeant England, whom he is expected in turn to relieve at 6 o'clock this morning, and went home sick. Only three men are on the Battery patrol now, and their hours of service are long and dreary. The Park Board will meet tomorrow—at least it is expected to meet—and it is probable that some action will be taken in the matter.

THE BRIDGE STREET FERRY.

THE BRIDGE STREET FERRY.

In response to the note of Mayor Low asking a favorable consideration for a petition by residents of the Fifth Ward in Brooklya for the reestablishment of the old Bridge Street Ferry, Controller Campbell, in behalf of the Suking Fund Commissioners, sent yesterday a letter promising his cooperation. In this he says that the landing in New-York is in a dilapidated condition, and that, in an endeavor last year to establish a ferry between Bridge-st., Brooklyn, and Market-st., New-York, it was ascertained that the buildhead at Market-st. was so occupied that it could not be used for a landing. In concussion the Controller asks the question: "At what point is a landing desired in New-York?"

FORGETTING HIS CHILDREN.

Patrick Gillespie, of No. 451 West Fifty-secondst., went to Jersey City on Sanday with his two little daughters, Mary and Annie, oge two and four years respectively. On his way back, about 10 o'clock at night, Gillespie, who was drunk, forgot all about the enildren, and left them on the ferryboat, whence they were taken to the First Precinct Station, Jersey City. Gillespie did not miss the children until he reached home and his wife asked him where they were. Between 12 and 1 o'clock he reached the, station, and found them there, almost heart-broken with gifef and fear. He was still under the influence of liquor, and the Sergeant on duty was strongly inclined to lock him up, but concluded finally to let him go and take the children home.

"SHALL" OR "WILL"?

Three men were gravely discussing the proper and improper use of the words "shall" and "will" over their dinaer in a down-town restaurant yesterday. All were agreed that mistakes are made constantly by people who ought to know better, but neither could lay down a rule which would save people from the error. Presently a bright idea struck one of the three. "I have it," he said. "It is a question of time. It is proper to say I shall go to Rockaway to-day, but 'I will go next week." The other two nodded their heads in assent, and the conversation was changed.

miting of the United States and as many intin of the United Sta they will remain, practising daily at Creedmoor until the match. This will be the first match of its kind, and the National Rifle Association, under whose anspices it will take place, have given it a great deal of earnest and patriotic attention. It grew onto a suggestion made by Major Morris B, Farr last year. The plan adopted at that time was to send a team to Wimbledon to compete with a team of British inditiamen, provided the latter would guarantee to send a return team to Creedmoor in 1883. To this the Englishmen would not ascent, but they volunteered to send a team to Creedmoor this year on similar conditions. To this plan the National Rifle Association finally agreed rather than have the project fall through, recognizing fully, however, the advantage which the changed programme gave the visitors. The significance of the match lies in the test which it will apply to the skill of he men and the merit of the arms with which the soldiery of the respective countries are equipped.

The international rifle matches which have been contested in their to have been between civilians armed with fine sporting rilles, specially made for the purpose, and provided with a good deal of delicate mechanism, such as spirit-levels, windgauges, pin-head-sights, vernier scales (for the regulation of the elevation), and the like. With these rifles assounding feats of marksmauship have been performed at Creedmoor and Wimbledon; but the circumstances have been such very little practical good has come out of them. This match is to be contested by soldiers with field-arms, and it is easy to see how direct will be the influence which it will exert in two directions—in encouraging skill in the use of arms, and in promoting efforts to improve the quality of army rilles. In this regard an important result has already been attained, E. Remington & Sons and the Winchester Repeating Arms Company having produced special rifles in view of the match which by experts are said to show a vast improvement on the arms now used by the Regular Army be in the competition for the selection of the team. As to the result of this competition, I am not prepared to say more than this: that, as a rule, the prize-winners at Creedmoor are strangers. The best rifle team in the State are at Binghamton, the next at Watertown and the third at Oswego. The reason of this is very plain. In the small towns the riflemen have their range close at hand and can practise often, and even every day during their noon hour if they wish. Here it takes a long time to reach the range, and the cost of practice is much greater. In the State team competition in 1879 two-thirds of the winners cause from outside of New-York and Brooklyn."

"What do you think of the chances of the Umted States team against the English?"

"The scores made by the men who have practised at Creedmoor and elsewhere were much better than I expected to see, and are, on the whole, I think, a little better than those made by the Laghish team. Six months ago we all thought there was no chance whatever for our men. Now if there are any odds they are in our layor. The English Vount-ers have had the advantage of us in drill and in miles heretore; but this match will put us on even terms, I expect great results from it. It will revolutionize had the advantage of us in drill and in rilles heretofore; but this match will put us on even terms, I expect great results from it. It will revolutionize military shooting, as it has already revolutionized military arms. The Remingtons have sent us a specially made Hotenkiss rule, and the Winchesters an arm of theirs which is worth two of the old military rilles. It holds its elevation like a Creedmoor. The other day at practice a gentleman with one of them put shots made a three-inch circle seven times in succession without cleaning—a feat which could not be accomplished with our Creedmoors. These have to be cleaned after every shot, and if they were to be used as soldiers use Creedmoors. These have to be cleaned after every shot, and if they were to be used as soldiers use their gans, they wouldn't shoot for sour apples."

THE MERCURY AT MINETY-TWO.

The heat was very oppressive yesterday; much more so than on Sanday. Not only did the mercury reach a higher point, but in the early part of the day a thick yellow haze prevailed, the humidity of the atmosphere being very great. At noon, although the temperature was not so high as it afterward increases the leaf seemed more oppressive than at the temperature was not so high as it afterward became, the heat seemed more oppressive than at any other time of the day. The heat's emed not so much to make people perspire as to make them drowsy and stupid. Toward evening the air became cooler and there were stiff breezes which made life more endurable. The public baths were crowded, and the excursion-beats were well patronized, though the passenges cast an eye toward the life preservers and figured ou, what they would do in case the beat they were on should meet with a collision.

Thus for, Sunday, Aug 6, has been the hottest day

Thus for, Sunday, Aux 6, has been the hottest day of Angust, the maximum temperature being 96° at 3:30 p. m., and the average temperature 80°4°. Last year the hottest day in August was the 13th, and then, also, the maximum temperature was 96°, but the average was 80°. The hottest day this year, thus far, was July 28, when the mercury got up as high as 90°. The average temperature on that day, however, was 84°. 3°, of a degree less than the average for May 25°, when the maximum was 97°, and the average 84°s°.

At the Signal station in the Equitable Building the highest temperature midicated was 83°, at 3:12 p. m. Reports from various cities throughout the country, made at the same hour, show that there had been a gradual rise in temperature as a rule, during the twenty-four hours preceding, though in Albany, Boston, Bismarck, Dak., and Dodge City, Kau., there had been falling temperatures, the difference in Albany being 13° and that in Boston 5°. The highest temperature reported was 90°, which was reached in seven ambitious localities—Huron, Dak.; Montgomery, Ala.; North Platte, Neb.; San Antonio, Tex.; St. Louis, Mo.; St. Paul, Minn., and Yankton, Dak. The lowest temperature was reported for Duluth, Minn.—57°. Following is a list showing the extremes of temperature in various pertions of the country at 3:12 p. m. yesterday: Albany, 81°; Alpena, Mich, 78°; Albana, Ga. 80°. clear out." Warner left the house, but storing after 7 o'clock he returned, and went up to his room. In a few minutes a pistol-shot was heard, followed by a scream, and then Warner was seen running downstairs. In the yard he fired at Brown, the balt penetrating Brown's left breast. Brown was carried into the house and Warner sat down on a bench. Police-Surgeon Mercer, Dr. H., W. Little and Dr. Milton Baldwin found that Mrs. Warner had been snot in the back of the head. The doctors could not find the ball. They said she might recover. They also said that Brown was seriously wounded. They could not findlishe ball that entered his breast. Brown, Mrs., Warner and Warner refused to say what occasioned the shooting. The boarders were also silent about the trouble. Mrs. Warner is twenty-live years old, rather good-looking, has black hair, blue eyes and a fine figure. Policeman John Prout arrested him and took him to Police Headquarters. He gave to Prout the revolver with which he did the shooting.
